

The Skinny Pig

Where Gluttony is No Longer a Sin

November 03, 2009

International Chocolate Show Round-Up: Part 2

The International Chocolate Show had so many vendors, I couldn't fit them all all into one post.

Jer's Chocolate of San Diego was probably one of my favorites. Also known as "the pioneer of gourmet peanut butter and chocolate", their "Cara Mella" bar took best in show: simple, smooth dark chocolate with peanut butter and caramel filling. It was so good, I felt it was my sworn duty to have some samples and then proceed to buy an obnoxious amount of it.

Cara Mella on the left. Guess who ate the last 2 pieces?

Jer's lets you place orders online, and they have a great assortment of gift boxes for the holidays. They have a new gift box called "Jer's Five Stack Peanut Butter Lovers Gift Tower" with 5 different kinds of boxes of peanut butter/chocolate confections. Let's just clarify that this isn't a gift "box," it's a gift "tower." Can you really go wrong with a gift tower of chocolate and pb? I think not.